

Manuscript page showing musical notation (neumes) on red staves and Latin text in Gothic script. The text is a passage from the Gospel of John, chapter 10, verses 1-10. The page is numbered 133 in the left margin. The text is written in black ink, with some initials and decorative elements in red and blue. The musical notation consists of square neumes on a four-line red staff.

133

namus est cuius non sunt oues pprie uidet lupum uenientem et dimitat o ues et fu git et lupus ra pit et dispergit oues allelu ia. ps. Mag. a. Sicut nouit me pater et ego agnosco pa trem et animam meam pono pro ouib; meis alleluia. p. Mag. at.
Et alias oues habeo que non sunt ex hoc ouili et illas oportet me adducere et uocē